Our People

Meet our fantastic senior volunteer – Clay.

Clay started his Sula volunteer journey 2.5 years ago. We often ask ourselves is he a man or a machine? He walks the bigger, more difficult to handle dogs, never taking a break. A man on a mission to get things done is lovingly nicknamed The Beast to reflect his “keep going until finished attitude.”

Clay is not only fantastic around the dogs. Being the light-hearted joker we all love, he puts a smile on all of our faces. His hidden talents are his marketing skills which are apparent on the days he has volunteered at the Sula market stall.

We are lucky to have you, Clay.

Supply Angels are Quiet Heroes

We continue to need donations in forms of blankets, towels, sheets and fabric for the dogs at the rescue. As we scour locally, we rely strongly on supply angels to bring humanitarian aid suitcases filled with the donations.

RESCUE IS NOT FOR THE FAINT OF HEART

- 🕒 The Sula Society has been contacted to help independent “rescuer.” Unfortunately, many dogs passed away due to illness and neglect when “rescuer” declined assistance.
- 🕒 The rescue effort gone bad by someone who had no resources, medical assistance and know how resulted in disease outbreak.
- 🕒 It is not enough to take dogs off the streets. It takes money to provide medical care, food, and quarantine facilities.
- 🕒 The “rescuer” abandoned all dogs, and we are working hard to feed them and formulate a plan how to assist them without getting our dogs’ sick.
