Years at Work

Changing Lives
Since 2021

Our People

Meet amazing volunteer duo: Jeff and Cindy.

Jeff and Cindy are much more than volunteers, they have Sula in their hearts. For the months they are in Puerto Vallarta, they are there at the drop of a hat when needed. Cindy loves walking dogs, and Jeff is our very own project foreman. This year he has built and overseen construction of another much-needed bridge across the river with the help of other fabulous volunteers. Many projects have been accomplished with Jeff's help and guidance!

Thank You Both!

New Colors – Same Goal

By popular demand website for The Sula Society has changed colors from orange theme to blue. You may wonder why or does it make a difference... Since the rescue is in beautiful Puerto Vallarta, Mexico we want to reflect its azure beauty. Naturally, the newsletter had to follow. Our goal remains the same to rescue dogs without prejudice, regardless of size, color, or breed. Making difference one dog soul at the time.

Beauty is in the eye of beholder – Nubbins.

As the snowbirds return home, we carry on...

- End of April marks end of the influx of volunteers who make Puerto Vallarta their home during winter months. As our helpers return to Canada and United States, we continue to care for close to 300 dogs at Sula. Wellbeing of those under our care is top priority every day. As the sun rises the cleaning, feeding, and outings start and continue until sunset.
- Furthermore, with those leaving beautiful Mexico, the dogs once “rescued” often return to streets. When shelters or rescue groups cannot accommodate the dogs saved by vacationers, there is no option but to release the dogs back. The calls keep on coming and we do our best to help any way we can.
- Please consider dog sponsorship and make a difference in dog's life.

My Journey – Nubbins' Diary

- 🏠 I was found two years ago at the construction site, where workers were giving me food and water. My skin took a toll from living amongst dust and debris. I was briefly adopted, but due to no fault of my own I was returned to the rescue.
- 🏠 My world has changed once again... I live at Barb's house; I am safe, and I am loved. I have many dog friends, and I LOVE people. I heard that I may be hard to adopt out because I have some scars on my face... I hope someone can see my beauty and give me my forever home.
